

With jugs and a stick, she seems to be a scale
 A symbol of justice of which everyone is aware
 A building behind her back belonged to the city
 Every robber's afraid of it - even the one, who's witty
 Look for a picture of the scale
 It should be on building's walls as well.
 Now look in the opposite direction
 And go there, where you see a connection
 In the alcove, on the markets corner you'll find a statue
 Of an architect which should already be known to you.

4. THIS IS GIOVANNI BATTISTA DI QUADRO OF PONTE THERESA, WHO WAS PAID TO BUILD SOMETHING... WHAT WAS THAT? YOU'LL FIND YOUR ANSWER ON THE STATUE.

Looking into Giovanni's face, go away from him
 And don't be so grim
 Carefully look at tenement houses upper part
 One of the buildings is covered with art -
 Scissors, mannequins and a woman that spins,
 Because this market's part belonged to craft guilds.
 (an employee organization from the past)

5. WHAT KIND OF A CRAFT GUILD COULD THIS BUILDING BELONG TO?

- a. Hairdressers (D)
- b. Smiths (C)
- c. Weavers (A)

Now go to the crossing and then up
 Just please, try not to take a nap...
 Continue up the street, along the city walls
 The building on your right- people once gathered in its halls.
 They organized there a place to trade
 And the year was 1838.

6. FIND A PLATE, WHERE IT'S WRITTEN SOMETHING ABOUT A JOINT-STOCK COMPANY FOUNDED IN 1838 AND PUT ITS NAME IN BOXES BELOW.
